Subject: ISESCO Prizes for Science and Technology, 2014

Assalamu alaikum warahmatu Allah wabarakatuh,

The Islamic Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization -ISESCO- is pleased to announce the launch of "ISESCO Prizes for Science and Technology, 2014". These prizes are awarded for outstanding innovative scientific contributions of socio-economic significance in the fields of biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, physics and technology, undertaken by scientists and researchers in the Member States. The laureates of ISESCO Prizes will be recognized and awarded in a ceremony during this year. Each prize consists of a reward of US$ 5000 and a Certificate.

You are kindly requested to announce the prizes to relevant institutions in your esteemed country, such as science academies, universities, research centers and scientific institutions (no more than two nominees in each field). Please notify that the closing date for nomination through the National Commission for ISESCO is 30 April 2014

For more information and nominations forms in the three working languages (Arabic, English and French) you may kindly refer the applicants to our Web Site:

<http://www.icpsr.org.ma/?page=SciencePrizes>

We are sure that you will kindly undertake the necessary measures to communicate the information and the nomination forms to the concerned scientific institutions in your country, encouraging them to apply for these prestigious and valuable prizes.

Thanking you for your kind cooperation, please accept the assurances of our highest consideration.
